Mrs. Clark Traps Sally's Threatener

Threatened—Clever detective work of socialite Mrs. F. Haven Clark of Nahant today jailed a Lynn shoe worker after he is alleged to have sent threatening letters to her daughter, Sally (above).

Lost . . . and Calm—Without a worry in the world, Edward Corcoran, 4, and his kid brother, John, 3, wait in headquarters with Officer Peter Furry for parents to find them. Parents did.

KANE DEFIES 'PAYLESS'

Pins Blame on City Workers for Plight

WOBURN CASH—While city employees go on enforced payless pay days, Mayor William Kane fondles $268,501.30 in bank there. He says city workers have "eaten their cake" . . . and voids pay days. This money is to go to other city obligations, he asserted.

Woburn teachers, firemen and police officers facing two months of payless paydays have "no one to blame but themselves," Mayor William E. Kane declared today as he insisted he would enforce the city's economy budget.

The payless paydays will affect 135 teachers and 22 police officers and 40 firemen.

Teachers, whose last salary of the year will be paid November 5, have retained Attorneys James E. McLaughlin and James H. Henchey to represent them.

"It isn't as though they didn't have plenty of notice," declared the peppery mayor. "They've known since the budget was passed there was only money enough to pay them for 10 months at the old rate."

"I tried to convince them to split the money into 12 pieces so it would carry through to the end of the year."

"But they insisted on getting the money at the old rate, expecting to stir up a lot of public sympathy so that somehow they would be paid for the rest of the year."

Agreeing there would be some sympathy for the payless ones, Kane insisted he had the general support of Woburn's taxpayers and citizens, and that he would stand on his budget as it was adopted.

He pointed out that the budget, as recommended, was passed by Woburn's city council, approved by the state Emergency Finance Board and then overwhelmingly ratified by Woburn citizens last April 24 in Woburn's special "plebiscite."

Commenting on reports that police officers were planning to retain counsel to fight to obtain their regular pay for the next two months, Kane said:

"No court action has been taken by anyone, but if and when they do, they will find they have plenty of opposition, believe me."

"It's not that the city hasn't got the money. We've got it—a balance of $268,501.30—but the cops can't have any of it. They and the others have eaten their cake."

"If any of them can't go through the two months without pay, it's their own fault and it's sufficient reason for their dismissal. I'll replace them with welfare workers. There are plenty of them deserving a nice job like that."

Kane said he would meet with Woburn's school committee tonight and there was some indication a possible compromise might be reached although the mayor would say nothing other than it would be a "very interesting meeting."

Nazis Halt Ousting Of Jews in New Drive

BERLIN, Oct. 28—While thousands of Polish Jews, escorted on short notice to the border, anxiously awaited their fate, further mass deportations were suddenly suspended late today while emergency negotiations were opened with Warsaw, the propaganda ministry announced.

The Jews, threatened with loss of their Polish citizenship, were rounded up in pre dawn raids in major cities.

The anti-Jewish drive, which spread terror through ghettos and jammed police stations with bewildered men and weeping women and children, was described as a "measure of self-protection."

In Berlin alone more than 1000 Jews were seized.

The roundup was believed ordered because German authorities feared Polish Jews, especially those who have lived in Germany

BULLETIN

BERLIN, Oct. 28 (INS)—Deportation of Poles was "temporarily halted" late today while new negotiations were opened with Warsaw, the propaganda ministry announced.

for many years, would be declared by the Polish Government to be Poles no longer under a law which is to become effective Oct. 30.

Thus Germany seized this last minute to dump them on Polish soil.

POLAND PROTESTS

The Polish embassy in Berlin immediately consulted police authorities regarding the raids.

Polish authorities explained that the new Polish law requires examination of all cases of Poles living abroad to determine to what extent they still should be considered Polish citizens.

Jewish circles estimated that a total of more than 6000 individuals would be affected by the drive.

From Cologne came news that Polish Jews there had been ordered to report to their respective police precinct stations. They were told they would be shipped out of the country tonight.

RAIDS ARE DRAMATIC

The arrests were carried out in rapid and dramatic fashion, beginning in the chill morning at 5 o'clock.

Directed by passport control officers, police cars swept through the ghetto, bottling up all entrances to streets in the district and launching a house-to-house search.

Heads of each family were aroused from their beds and temporarily ordered to dress. Loaded into trucks, they were taken to the police stations by the score. All were held on suspicion of passport irregularities.

Long lines of Jewish women and children at the same time assembled outside police barracks, carrying suit cases and cardboard boxes, waiting for police examination papers.

Jap Air Bomb Kills U. S. Child

SHANGHAI, Oct. 28 (INS)—Presaging further strain in relations between the United States and Japan, it was revealed today that a three-year-old American child was killed Monday when Japanese bombing planes raided a Lutheran mission at Tungpeh, in Honan province.

Stock Prices Move Lower

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Railway stocks held the buying play almost exclusively in today's market as recent industrial leaders were shoved to lower levels by profit taking.

Utilities and electrical equipments were in the advancing limelight, following announcement from Washington of a huge expansion program adopted by important utility corporations. These stocks, though, quickly lost vitality.

Steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, oils and specialties found the going a bit too rough for comfort, and, at the close, losses of fractions to around 32 predominated.

Details of the bombing were slim. The little victim was identified as Phoebe Nyhus. Her mother and sister were reported seriously injured.

Advices from Tungpeh said the mission buildings were marked by a large American flag at the time the air attack occurred. The child's father was said to have termed the raid on the mission "deliberate."

Disclosure of the attack followed publication of a sharp American note to Japan, demanding that Nippon respect American rights in China and maintain the historic "open door" principle.

Meanwhile, Japanese troops pressed forward with their drive to capture the entire length of the vital Hankow-Canton railway after one column cut the line just north of Sianning, where a large number of Chinese divisions are concentrated.

Nipponese legions engaged Chinese defense forces about 45 miles south of Hankow. The Chinese were reported retreating in confusion toward Sianning.

At the same time, the work of "mopping up" the Hankow area continued. Reports from the former Chinese provisional capital said that the Nipponese were executing "scores" of Chinese in the fallen city.

The dead child was reported to be the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nyhus of Iowa, American Lutheran missionaries. The wounded girl was identified as Ruth Nyhus, aged 8.

Singer's Mother Traps Suspect:

Extortion Letters Sent to Sally Clark

Alleged to have written six threatening letters to Sally Clark, socialite night club singer and sister-in-law of John Roosevelt, a 35-year-old Lynn shoe worker was held for questioning today.

CHILD AND DECREE—Uncontested divorce and custody of 5-year-old Martha were won by Mrs. Agrippina Grant of North End in Suffolk court today. She testified her husband, a free-swinging ex-sailor, frequently punched her in the face.

Boston Evening American Photos

Amateur detective work, done by Mrs. F. Haven Clark, Sally's mother, aided authorities in trapping the accused letter writer.

Lynn police said he confessed today to having mailed "poison pen" threat and extortion missives, not only to Sally Clark, but also to President Roosevelt, Governor Hurley, Mayor J. Fred Manning of Lynn and members of the Roosevelt family.

Postoffice inspectors at Boston and Lynn police had begun a search for the author of the "poison pen" and extortion communications some time ago, but had failed to obtain any results.

A PERFECT CLUE

To their aid came Mrs. Clark. She furnished them with a recent letter received by Sally, in which the anonymous writer, giving his views on current economic problems, divulged his own Social Security number.

The letters to Sally Clark were

Plant Pays 'Ex' $173,500

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., Oct. 28 (INS)—After testifying for 15 minutes, Mrs. Edna Dunham Plant, pretty blond wife of Phillip Morgan Plant, Broadway playboy and millionaire Waterford farmer, today was granted an uncontested divorce and an alimony settlement of $173,500 by Superior Court Judge Robert L. Munger.

The judge excused Mrs. Plant from the witness stand when she burst into tears while giving testimony to support her charge of cruelty against her millionaire husband.

This was the ground on which the divorce was granted, although the wife charged Plant with intemperance and misconduct as well in her original complaint in April, 1937.

Dr. Edward J. McCabe of Jackson Heights, L. I., and Betty L. Mortimer of New York city, girlhood chum of the wife, also testified for Mrs. Plant, who was married to Plant in 1934 in Florida.

Gun 'Threat' Charge Wins Her Divorce

"He said he had a rope, a gun and chloroform in the car."

Thus Mrs. Rena L. Shanfield, Roxbury, department store saleswoman, described a rendezvous in the Blue Hills with her husband, Maurice M., from whom she won an uncontested divorce today in Suffolk probate court.

Testifying they were married at Manchester, N. H., August 27, 1937, Mrs. Shanfield said her husband never contributed to her support.

"On June 13 of this year," she told Judge John V. Mahoney, "we were parked in the Blue Hills when suddenly my husband demanded my watch and diamond ring."

DEMANDED JEWELRY

"He told me that if I did not give him the jewelry he had a rope, gun and chloroform ready for me in the car."

"We struggled but I managed to hold on to the ring and watch. Later he took them away from me because I could struggle no longer."

Mrs. Shanfield was allowed to resume her maiden name of Rena L. Kramer.

Irene Berman, 18, student nurse took the stand. In the same court in behalf of the uncontested divorce won by her mother, Mrs. Sophie Berman, Evelyn street, Mattapan, from Abraham Berman of Boston.

SINGLE AGAIN—After testifying her husband threatened to use a rope, gun and chloroform on her when she refused to give him her valuables, Mrs. Rena L. Shanfield of Roxbury leaves Suffolk court . . . with a divorce.

Irene testified she once saw her mother with a black eye following a scuffle with her father.

TELLS OF 'THREAT'

Mrs. Berman testified her husband once grabbed a knife and threatened to kill her.

"He told me," she said, "that he suspected I was putting poison in his food to kill him so that I could collect his $1000 insurance."

The Bermans were married in Lithuania in 1911. They separated May 12 of this year.

Mrs. Agrippina Grant of the North End won an uncontested divorce from Miller W. Grant on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment and gained custody of their 5-year-old daughter, Martha Ethel. She testified her husband, whom she married Sept. 3, 1932, and who was formerly in the navy had frequently struck her.

Kentucky Girl, 10, On Her Honeymoon

PRESTONBURG, Ky., Oct. 28 (INS)—A girl of 10 in cotton stockings and a gingham dress, and a widower, 34, were honeymooning in a two-room log cabin on Abbott's Creek near here today while perplexed authorities pondered what to do.

The couple—Rosie Columbus and Fleming Tackett—were wed last week by a preacher of the Hills, the Rev. W. G. Ratliff, who works weekdays as a blacksmith at the early coal mine where the groom is a miner.

The girl came in from play with ten other children when the Rev. Ratliff arrived to marry her, he said. He questioned her age, he declared, but followed the advice

3 Dead, 20 Hurt As Fire Sweeps Marseilles

MARSEILLE, Oct. 28 (AP)—Fire which swept 10 buildings in the heart of Marseilles today and was believed to have caused three deaths led Premier Edouard Daladier to suspend until tomorrow the Radical-Socialist conference here.

The fire destroyed the big Nouvelles Galeries de Paris department store, the Noailles Hotel where Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet were staying, and spread to two other hotels, a bank and several other buildings.

There was 20 known injured. Marseilles' whole fire department battled the flames, reinforced by military firefighters from the Toulon Arsenal, but the conflagration continued to spread.

Before the roof of the Noailles Hotel caved in, a policeman broke into the apartments of Daladier and Bonnet, who were at the party congress, and rescued their papers. Besides the roof three floors of the hotel later collapsed.

The Nouvelles Galeries de Paris store was a mass of ruins. The whole block of buildings in the square bounded by the boulevards Canebiere and Garibaldi, the Rue Papereux and the Rue Marche des Capucins were imperilled. The fire was accompanied by numerous gas explosions.

Payson Smith Raps Married Teacher Ouster

Dismissal of married women teachers from the Somerville schools was condemned in Symphony Hall today by Payson Smith, former Massachusetts commissioner of education, at the 84th annual meeting of the Middlesex Teachers' Association.

"A good example of the lengths to which officialdom will go in trying to regulate the private lives of teachers is the attempt to exclude married women from employment in the schools," Dr. Smith declared.

"If it can be shown that married women are less efficient than unmarried teachers then that is a reason for their dismissal—but not otherwise."

In his audience were hundreds of men and women teachers from Somerville.

"Education is not helped," Dr. Smith continued, "when legislative bodies assume control of functions of local school authorities in matters of curriculum and methods of teaching."

Dr. Smith linked the press with the church and the schools as indispensable to the education of a democracy.

"To save the democracy," he declared, "we must also save our free press, free church and free schools."

Trio on Job 500 Feet Up Jam Traffic

Five hundred feet above Boston streets, three men worked today, engaged in giving the Customs House tower a general beauty treatment, while sidewalk traffic jams threatened in the area.

Working on a tiny platform 20 feet long and only 18 inches wide, the trio nonchalantly applied a steam pressure hose to the south side of the uppermost part of the city's tallest structure, removing a 24-year accumulation of grime and soot.

The eastern area of the upper tower has already been cleaned and in two more weeks the entire structure will be restored to its pristine whiteness.

Swinging on an equally dizzy perch ten feet higher than the other, is Roy Peterson, 32-year-old Detroit painter, who wields his brush over the areas already scored.

Mates Dead, Seaman Sails Ship to Port

ST. JOHN, N. F., Oct. 28 (INS)—Hereism and an implacable will to live brought into port a grimy, exhausted engineer at the helm of a fishing schooner—sole survivor of a crew of five.

The engineer is grizzled Fred Murphy, member of the crew of the schooner Tyree. His pluck saved not only himself but his ship after his four shipmates had been battered from rail to rail by mountainous seas during Tuesday night's hurricane and finally swept overboard.

Murphy, like those who perished here from Lashaine. After he had seen his companions swept overboard, he grabbed the wheel and turned the bow to meet the raging waves, maneuvering the craft to dodge the mountainous waves as best he might.

Alone and unaided, Murphy sailed the ship into port at St. Pierre Island, a tiny haven off the southern coast of Newfoundland. There eager hands reached out to help him and he was put to bed to recover from the effects of sleeplessness and exposure.

Dangles on Rope To Rescue Woman Wedged in Window

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—A fireman swinging precariously at the end of a rope today held Marie Clamens, 35-year-old patient at the Regent Nursing Home by the legs for 20 minutes while other firemen cut through a fourth-floor casement window to pull her to safety.

Somehow the woman had become wedged in the window, and the fireman, Charles Pesoni, who was lowered from the roof, swung into position near her as she slowly slipped out of the narrow aperture.

Officials of the home said the woman had been a patient there for about a month. They learned of her plight through her frantic screams.

Hurley Signs 14 Million Bill

Governor Hurley at noon today signed into law the $14,250,000 bond issue passed by the special session of the Legislature for storm rehabilitation projects throughout the Commonwealth.

With the measure adopted in less than 14 hours after the Legislature had convened, hope was held out that the special session would be prorogued before nightfall.

"It looks as if we could get through tonight," the governor said.

"I will stand by to prorogue both Houses in the event they have completed their work."

The proceeds of the bond issue, it was announced, will be spread over a five-year period and will be amortized by funds received from the state tax on gasoline.

Last duty of the House and Senate this afternoon was to await a report from the ways and means committee on an additional $5,500,000.

Tobin Backs Kelly In Congress Fight

In his first endorsement of any candidate in the coming election, Mayor Tobin today declared his support of Martin J. Kelly, Jamaica Plain, who seeks to win the 10th district congressional seat from veteran George Holden Tibbatts.

Tobin announced he would stump for Kelly, indicating the full strength of the machine which swept him into the mayoralty last fall would be placed behind the Democratic congressional candidate.

Doris Kenyon Weds Lasker

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP).—Doris Kenyon, star of the films in the days of silent motion pictures, was married to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel today to Albert D. Lasker, Chicago business man.

Only members of the immediate families were present. The ceremony was performed by Supreme Court Justice Irwin Untermyer.

The bride was known not only as an actress but as poet, author and concert singer. Her former husband, the late Milton Sills, was a star of the silent movies and a one-time professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago.

Lasker's first wife, Flora Warner, died in 1935. Together they had created the Lasker Foundation for Medical Research at the University of Chicago.

Lasker was formerly chairman of the U. S. Shipping Board, an important stockholder of Lord & Thomas, advertising firm.

Retailers Seek Nation-Wide Surplus Parley

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (INS)—In a letter to President Roosevelt, the National Retail Dry Goods Association today asked the President to call a conference of government, farmers, labor, consumers, producers, manufacturers and distributors "at an early date" to develop a cooperative program for the disposal of accumulated farm surpluses.

The association, representing 5700 department and specialty stores throughout the country, pointed out the plea reflected the concern of business leaders generally over the recent statements of Secretaries Wallace and Morgenthau, "looking towards the distribution of certain agricultural and manufactured products to the lower third of our people" at prices below those prevailing in the normal course of trade.

A committee, headed by Kenneth Collins, vice-president of Gimbel Brothers, New York, has been exploring the Wallace proposal for two weeks, and the letter to President Roosevelt reflects the apprehension of retailers over the disruption of trade and employment which might result from an "ill-considered program for unloading" these surpluses.

"In particular, retailers have been concerned because it seems obvious that the distribution of any considerable amount of agricultural and manufactured products along these lines would result in a serious dislocation of the retail industry and thus adversely affect retail employment," the letter said.

There are more than a million retailers in the country with an annual volume of trade of 40 billion dollars and employing between three and a half and four million persons.

Urges Hunters Obey Law and Avoid Arrest

All that Massachusetts hunters need do is to comply with regulations and they'll be in no danger of arrest, Ernest J. Dean, commissioner of conservation, asserted today in answer to complaints and protests of "intricate technicalities" in the regulations.

Dean said he had made it clear that woods were open and hunting was permitted in three areas of the state. These areas are all of Massachusetts west of the Connecticut river, all sections south and east of Route 1 between Boston and Providence, and all sections north and east of Route 28 from Boston to the New Hampshire line.

In the rest of the state, Dean said, hunting is permitted on shores of lakes, ponds and rivers, if the areas can be reached by road.

There can be no hunting in such areas, he explained, if it is necessary to cross woodlands to reach them.

Needle in Haystack? Ha! Listen!

Looking for a needle in a haystack is about as easy a job as that assigned three men by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company at its Water-town warehouse.

The trio have been ordered to examine every one of the 450,000 telephone directories, recently called in, for 15¢ bills a Brookline subscriber inadvertently left in his obsolete book. Brookline district telephone manager Edward J. McGinnis has declined to reveal the identity of the subscriber.

Storm Moves Up Coast Toward Hub

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (INS)—The U. S. Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning:

"Advisory ten thirty a. m. Disturbance of moderate intensity central about two hundred miles off the Delaware coast will probably remain stationary during the next twelve hours and then begin to move to the north or northeast."

"Strong northeast winds this afternoon and tonight Boston to Block Island, R. I., strong north winds this afternoon and tonight south of Block Island to Virginia Capes and fresh to strong northwest winds south of Virginia Capes to Hatteras."

George K. Black Not Defendant

At the request of George K. Black, a Boston attorney with offices in State street, the Boston Evening American is glad to call attention to the fact that he is not the Attorney George Lawrence Black who appeared as defendant in a Brighton drunken driving case, Oct. 24.

That defendant, who gave the name of George Lawrence Black, and was so listed in Brighton district court records, was described by police as a Boston lawyer. He gave a Boston address.

Attorney George K. Black, a member of the Boston bar in high professional standing, was in no way connected with the case at issue in Brighton court.

Navy Bomber Spans Nation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Navy's huge new bomber, landing here early today after a 13-hour, 55-minute trip from San Diego, Calif., completed what naval officials said was the first non-stop transcontinental flight for a seaplane of its size.

The 24-ton ship took off secretly from the naval air station at San Diego yesterday at 12:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time and landed at the Anacostia Naval Air Station here at 2:05 a. m. today.

The ship has four Pratt and Whitney engines of 14 cylinders and 900 horsepower each, a wing span of 115 feet and is 77 feet, three inches long and 28 feet, three inches high.

Calif. Communist Activity Rouses Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Two members of the House committee investigating an American spy ring in California in mid-November will on Wednesday (29) witness a hearing on Communist activities in the state.

Chairman James H. Duff of Texas, making the announcement before today's hearing, said the subcommittee probably would consist of Representative Starnes (D.) of Alabama and Messers (D.) of Ohio.

The committee already has heard considerable testimony about Communist in California. Harper Knowles, a Los Angeles resident, testified Wednesday that three Democratic candidates in the state had Communist sympathies. An assertion which brought several denials.

Chairman Duff's criticism of the committee as a reply of the committee's critics, were producing the paper issue.

One of the witnesses—John M. Harringer, former Flint City manager, wrote the President last night.

"It is regrettable that you did not concern yourself with the one-sided, un-American manner in which the Lafayette Hotel liberal committee conducted its hearings."

"My criticism of Governor Murphy was based on his refusal to help us fight off mob rule of the city."

Roosevelt Again Hits Dies Probe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (INS)—President Roosevelt denounced the Dies committee today, saying it was "a disgrace to the Congress" and the conduct of its hearings "a disgrace to the American people."

He said the committee, headed by Chairman Martin Dies of Texas, was "a disgrace to the American people" and the conduct of its hearings "a disgrace to the American people."

Double Catch Crowns Chase

Ending a thrilling stolen car chase with a fusillade of shots, Cambridge police today arrested two Somerville men as auto thieves and at the same time seized a pair of youths on charge of breaking and entering.

Squad cars pursued the stolen machine a blocky track more than a mile along Forest street until it was abandoned near York street when the officers fired.

As they searched the neighborhood for the car thieves the police of officers arrested at junction two Cambridge youths fighting in the steps of a cafe.

Giving the names of John May, 19, of Green street and James J. Cronin, 21, of Williams street, they were booked for breaking and entering.

Meanwhile, patrolmen searching for the car thieves sighted John Kimball, 25, of Perry street, Somerville, with flour on his coat and arrested him in connection with the alleged larceny.

Joseph Silva, 23, of Magnus avenue, Somerville, was apprehended in the vicinity a few minutes later.

Judge Logan's Car Stolen; Boys Trapped

TWO PAROLEE BOYS were arrested today after Quincey police chased for five miles the stolen automobile of Judge Edward Logan of South Boston.

The youths turned over to South Boston police, were trapped in an automobile when it overturned in an unsuccessful attempt to escape a construction on the Neponset bridge.

GOP Expenditures Pass Million Mark

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (INS).—Republican National Committee expenditures have passed the million-dollar mark in the party "come-back trail." G. B. (taxpayer, treasurer reported in the clerk of the House today.

The report showed total receipts for the year from Jan. 1 to Oct. 7 were $1,247,571. Disbursements in the same period were $1,263,918. This left a deficit of $16,347.

Among the large contributors to the fund were: Massachusetts Republican Finance Committee $766, and Mrs. Richard M. Stallenstall, Chestnut Hill, Mass., $2000.

Shoots at Bird, Wounds Son-in-Law

GREENFIELD, Oct. 28 (AT).—John H. Dineen was at a hospital today with wounds about the face and head suffered when his father-in-law, George H. Dineen, fired at a partridge on the ground. The shot ricocheted.

Now Cap'n Pine Is Missing, Too

A brand new disappearance—that of Captain Ben Pine—was grooving fresh frown-furrows today in the brows of Boston directors of the International Fishermen's Race Corporation.

London, England, America, Wales, the race corporation had not located the missing skipper in time to pay America's $500 prize money, against the odds.

The race corporation was reported to have been told by a private source that the skipper was in the North Atlantic, except off the coast.

It was not because of any thing against Gloucester fishermen, Captain Ben Pine is an aquarist skipper as I want to share a watch with him. But these Gloucester landlubbers and shore lawyers would take the eye-teeth out of an honest sailor for the sake of the gold things.

ANGEL SAILS

At the time of his last flight, Captain Ben Pine was reported to have been flying over the North Atlantic, except off the coast. It was not because of any thing against Gloucester fishermen, Captain Ben Pine is an aquarist skipper as I want to share a watch with him. Some say it is an accident, others say it is a deliberate act. Captain Ben Pine was reported to have been flying over the North Atlantic, except off the coast. It was not because of any thing against Gloucester fishermen, Captain Ben Pine is an aquarist skipper as I want to share a watch with him. But these Gloucester landlubbers and shore lawyers would take the eye-teeth out of an honest sailor for the sake of the gold things.

WHICH UP PLANNED

If the race corporation had been told by a private source that the skipper was in the North Atlantic, except off the coast. It was not because of any thing against Gloucester fishermen, Captain Ben Pine is an aquarist skipper as I want to share a watch with him. But these Gloucester landlubbers and shore lawyers would take the eye-teeth out of an honest sailor for the sake of the gold things.

I guess Ben figures Angus Walters and the race corporation have run everything to suit themselves so far, and they ought not to let him to help him with their "athletic problem."

UP STILL MISSING

Angus Walters, Ben's wife, was reported to have been flying over the North Atlantic, except off the coast. U.S. Tests 360-Mile Hour Plane

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP).—A new type of airplane, designed to fly at 360 miles an hour, was tested today at the Wright field, Dayton, Ohio.

A schedule of tests in 11 days, including a flight to London, was announced today by the War Department.

The new plane, called the "P-36," is a single-engine, single-seat, low-wing monoplane. It is 28 feet long, 34 feet high, and has a wingspan of 36 feet.

The plane is designed to fly at 360 miles an hour, and is capable of flying at 400 miles an hour.

The plane is being tested by the Army Air Corps, and is expected to be in service by the end of the year.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 28 (AP)—As evidence of the closeness with which Japanese trade follows military conquest, 2000 cases of Japanese beer were unloaded today on the Hankow bund within three days of the fall of Hankow.

A salesman for Japanese typewriters reached Hankow almost with the flag, and started taking orders.

Chinese Attack Japs Near Canton

HONGKONG, Oct. 28 (AP)—Chinese reported today that a general counter-offensive was being waged northeast of Canton, now controlled by Japanese. The Chinese said the Japanese were retreating and facing defeat unless reinforcements arrived.

Japs, Cocky, To 'Close Door'

TOKYO, Oct. 28 (AP)—A foreign office statement today said Premier Prince Konoye had warned France that Japan "might be compelled to take measures" if the French continue to supply China with arms.

It was reported that the Japanese government had issued a statement in which it declared that it was "not prepared to accept a situation in which the French continue to supply China with arms." The statement also said that Japan was "not prepared to accept a situation in which the French continue to supply China with arms."

Japanese troops captured 30 miles south of Yenchow, today and established a reputation for an advance toward the French. The war toward Yenchow.

The invaders then moved up their conquest of Yenchow by sending off a small army to the north and asserted they would capture the city of Peking. Japanese troops captured the city of Peking. Japanese troops captured the city of Peking.

Nation's Cash Supply Stands At New High

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)

The nation's supply of ready cash stood at a new high today, while national income had a setback for the fourth consecutive month.

The commerce department's index of income paid out to the public rose from 22.9 per cent of the 1929 level in August to 23.1 per cent in September. The September index was 2.9 points above the low point for the year, but was 8 per cent below the 1929 peak.

Federal reserve experts estimated that bank deposits and currency in circulation had reached the unprecedented total of $17 billion, including a record supply of idle funds that might be loaned to stimulate business.

About $6,000,000,000 of the total was in currency and the rest in deposits. The available portion of deposits was estimated at $12,000,000,000, compared with $10,000,000,000 in 1929.

Deposits and currency have expanded by $1,000,000,000 since June 30, largely due to the inflow of foreign money seeking a haven from European war risks. The previous peak was in December, 1931.

Demand deposits, one of the leading items, were up $2,000,000,000 since June 30 and currency in circulation increased $1,000,000,000. Federal deposits, however, were up somewhat but had declined slightly.

3 Families Flee Revere Blaze

Three families including six small children were driven from their homes when fire was discovered on the second floor of a high-rise apartment house, early today.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Weinstein and five children fled from the first floor, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cohen and family were forced from the second story, while the family of Maxwell Cohen escaped from the top floor.

Firemen confined the flames to the Selasky apartment. Damage was estimated at $1500.

Death of Judge Tangles N.C. Voting

HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 28 (AP)—The death of Judge J. Lee P. Troupe of High Point today brought out a number of complications in the general election.

The district judge, who was expected to be a candidate who will be unopposed. Troupe, who defeated James H. Hester of High Point in the previous year, died after a stroke of paralysis.

Warn Woman At Spy Trial

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (INS)—Visibly shaken by a warning of the court to "tell the truth," Mrs. Kate Moog Busch contributed new chapters to the story of espionage in the United States today.

Mrs. Busch, a woman of 40, was on the stand in the Federal court today, charged with espionage for Germany. She was the first woman to be charged with espionage in the United States.

She had already testified that two members of the German staff, Hildegarde and Hans, had suggested that she should act as a spy for Germany. She had also testified that she had accepted the offer.

Today, she testified that the intelligence was given to her by the German staff. She also testified that she had given the information to the German staff.

POLITICAL BATTLE PAGE

Dever Office History Told

In the accompanying article the Paul A. Dever Campaign Committee outlines the characteristics of Attorney-General Paul A. Dever, which it believes entitle him to re-election.

Attorney-General Paul A. Dever, up for re-election as chief law officer of the Commonwealth, has the distinction of being the youngest candidate for state-wide office on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Thirty-six years of age, debonair and quick-witted, always the perfection of quiet sartorial elegance, Paul Dever has aptly been called the "legal adonis of Massachusetts."

He has also been called the "greatest attorney general in the history of the Commonwealth"—a title to which he himself readily assents.

In the recent primary election Attorney-General Dever had the unusual honor of being the only member of his party running for an important office without opposition of any description.

In the election of two years ago the people of Massachusetts gave overwhelming expression of their esteem in which Paul Dever is held by the voters of all parties.

Dever received more votes than any other candidate for state office in the history of Massachusetts. The $11,000 vote cast for him in the attorney general in 1930 was a record in the political annals of the Commonwealth.

In the City of Boston he topped even President Roosevelt, and alone vote by approximately 100,000.

Paul Dever is a credit to the people of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

He has been the story of American opportunity.

He was born after the turn of the century without the advantages of inherited wealth. At the age of eight he was left fatherless.

While at school and college he worked into the night at a bench in the Flood Building Company in order to obtain an education and contribute to the family budget.

Dever's education was interrupted by his military service in the United States Army during the World War.

His military service and his personal qualities have made him a popular figure in the Commonwealth. He has been called the "people's attorney general."

His record as attorney general has been one of the most successful in the history of the Commonwealth. He has been called the "people's attorney general."

His record as attorney general has been one of the most successful in the history of the Commonwealth. He has been called the "people's attorney general."

Pension Aims Cause Clash in Governor Race

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Platformed on old age assistance brought forth a name-calling contest today in the race for the governorship between Governor-elect James M. Curley and former Speaker of the House Lawrence Saltonstall.

Saltonstall, Republican nominee, fired the first barrage when he inferred that Curley was a "Johnny-comelately" on the question of old age and quoted from a pamphlet that purported to show that he was a "Johnny-comelately" on the question of old age.

Curley's retort, however, was a stunner. He called Saltonstall a "Johnny-comelately" and cited the Boston Herald's account of Saltonstall's endorsement of Curley as "Johnny-comelately" on the question of old age.

Barnes Cited As Racket Foe

In the accompanying article the Massachusetts State Republican Committee outlines what it believes are the necessary qualifications of Clarence A. Barnes to fit him for the attorney-general's office.

Political commentators who have been studying the temper of the people toward gangdom and pool racketeers believe that there is a strong probability of a decided call for another Dewey to restore law and order in this state.

These chances are in Clarence A. Barnes, Republican nominee for attorney general, based on the knowledge of the Albany road in New York ten years ago the modern to which Dewey's state government would drive the gang leaders from the state.

They started when Dewey was working, with assistance of the Massachusetts State Republican Committee, to drive the gang leaders from the state.

Kentucky Bride, 10, on Honeymoon at the marriage license which pays $1.00.

The bride, according to spectators, was oblivious to the meaning of the ceremony, as she timidly stood beside her husband-to-be and sword to "love, honor and obey." In the audience were grimy-faced miners who gathered to wish Tackett and the child-bride well.

Rose, who weighs 70 pounds and is 4 feet 6 inches tall, left the back Cliff cave in which she had lived two winters with her parents to start life anew in a "bran" new loghouse with "Flem," her husband, her Ma and Pa, brothers and sisters and some cousins.

The marriage, once was returned last week by the girl's mother Mrs. Grace C. Tackett, who said her daughter was 15, the pastor reported.

The Rev. Ratliff said when he appeared at the Tackett cabin he saw Rosie's older sister in the doorway. He assumed she was the prospective bride, he said, and was dumfounded when she pointed to the child, whom he not far away.

"I called for her (the older sister) to come closer so I could marry her," the pastor stated. "Instead, Rosie came forward shyly. Her shoes were badly scuffed and her clothing disarranged from her play."

Mr. J. H. Wells of Lexington, Ky., officiated the ceremony. After he was the afternoon preacher. He said when Rosie was born February 12, 1928.

'Sure, I Cook, Sew,' Says Happy Baby Bride

PRESTONBURG, Ky., Oct. 28 (INS)—Hanging her head in childish wonder, little Rosie Columbus, 10-year-old bride of Fleming Tackett, 34, coal mine loader, today bashfully admitted she can "cook, sew and wash" for her husband of a few days.

Interviewed at their "bran" new two-room log cabin in the rugged hills surrounding Abbott creek, near here, the "right pretty" little miss declared:

"I'm a right good hand at cooking, sewing and washing."

It typed hill fashion, however, she was not so talkative, and when asked if she liked married life with Flem, she ducked her head and tried to smile.

BRIEF SCHOOL DAYS

Her mother, M. S. Grace Columbus, 45, standing nearby, replied:

"She's not sayin' much about that."

"How long had you and Flem been courtin' before you got married?" Rosie was asked.

Before she could answer the mother interrupted:

"Oh, they'd been courtin' a long time—six or eight months maybe, 'Nippin' around and courtin', you know."

"Are you going to school now, Rosie?" the shy bob-haired lass was asked.

Again the mother answered for her.

"I 'spose she's had three years of school. I'm 'thinkin' Fleming ought to let her go another year."

Rosie had something in her head, carbed she had purchased at a store for her husband's shop.

The child, and mother too, appeared completely cut to any thought of official action because of the girl's age. The mother volunteered, however:

"I guess we will move, though, because no house is big enough for 'two families.'"

She referred to the tiny log hut which housed herself, Rosie, and Flem, three Columbus children, Flem's brother and his wife, referred to as "in-laws."

Sally Clark Gets Extortion Notes

allowed to her at the home of her mother in Nahant.

DEMANDED MONEY
At least one of the letters demanded money.

The writer said he wanted to open up a bowling alley and needed financial backing.

Police refused today to divulge the exact nature of the alleged threats made but they said the letters warned Sally he would cause her "great personal embarrassment" if his requests were denied.

"If that's the mystery man's real number, it ought to be easy to trace him," Mrs. Clark pointed out.

Her suggestion was promptly refused. It would be the capture of today's suspect.

He was taken in custody at the home of his parents in Hay View about Lynn.

CHIEF BY POLICE

Stationed at Lynn police headquarters, Inspector John Hines and Charles Duggan, he allegedly admitted having written the letters to Sally, the Hinesville and various police officials including the Boston state police and the state.

Hines said that high officials, he thought, were all in the nature of a bluff for the good of the public.

It was pointed out, however, that the man was a threat to the lives of the state and federal officials.

A state and federal official, who was temporarily held in the state prison.

Lynn police said they would have been contacted by an agent.

TIPS OF LETTERS

Sally Clark herself reached in New York by telephone told the Boston Evening American.

"I thought the poor man who wrote those letters had been put in a sanitarium."

"He wanted me to help him get the United States government to do something about a French document he said would straighten out the European situation."

He thought he and I and the President could end the depression, too.

I wasn't frightened by the letters. As a matter of fact, I didn't read more than a few paragraphs of them.

They were terribly long, some of them as much as eight pages. And they were in broken English, apparently written by a foreigner.

I don't remember any threats. And I didn't read the part where there was any mention of money for a bowling alley.

SAYS MOTHER WORRIED
I guess mother got worried when the letter writer sent me his social security card and then wrote another letter saying he was coming to mother's home in Nahant to get the card back.

"The letter started coming last summer. Then they stopped for a while. Finally they began coming again, this autumn."

"The poor man must be crazy. They ought to put him in an asylum, not in jail."

FIACE HAPPY

George X. McLanahan, Sally's wealthy and socially prominent young New York fiancé, told that this is the end of that sort of thing.

Sally showed me some of the letters. I'm glad to hear the man who wrote them has been arrested.

"We thought he must be harmless, but you never can tell. The man had a scheme for helping France out of her troubles. If he could get some document from the U. S. government."

"Sally wasn't frightened, but of course she was annoyed. I hope this is the end of that sort of thing."

Young McLanahan and Sally will be married in December in December.

Two Sides to Alimony Question

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Some time ago a letter appeared in your column about a man's first wife playing bridge while the second wife works hard to pay alimony.

Let me read yours to playing an occasional game of bridge in our church club, which I would not be interested in if I had not been supported by my husband's second wife's earnings. He had warned me there was another woman trying to get under his skin. At that time he had gone to a distant state to take a position and had written me that I'd better come in the old home until he was established. I joined him after getting the letter, but the husband was gone and finally to enable him to keep his position, I went to Italy and secured a divorce. Some time later, the second wife was charged with a campaign to ruin my little daughter and the money he had agreed to give up. She waited for the divorce to close, so I could not sue her for alimony of affection.

I am destitute, while he and the second wife live in luxury. He earns $360 a month. My own older hands, but what can I do? I am ill because I will not eat the food our little girl might need.

FIRST WIFE.

When a man divorces a court order very little can be done. In a case against alimony, the judge

Party Food
Suggestions

FROM MARTHA LEE'S FRIDAY MORNING BROADCAST OVER STATION WMBZ—1130 A. M.

While every variety of food and every adult who will submit to that time clothes do not necessarily make a party. So, if the game and food, top off the evening. If a fine cake (that means of home) a party. Milk and cookies may be adequate for the youngsters on any ordinary day. But on Halloween the festive must appeal to the grown-ups as well as to the kids.

Seasonal foods have become associated with Halloween, particularly apples, pumpkins, and their color and taste. They are suitable for the winter's food supply.

Halloween refreshments may be unconventional, including the old favorites of the season of some party may all be a favorite in new dress or fruits appearing to the season.

A Halloween supper of plenty might include:

AMID the gold and blue of a swanky tack room at the Armory's 11th annual horse show of the 110th Cavalry, M. N. G. . . this Rodier tweed suit fits as perfectly as it does in the entire fall fashion scheme. For this plaid top, plain skirt affair is counted the high success of the season, whether it gathers in chic numbers but great color diversity in the Yale Bowl, the Harvard Stadium or a hunt meet. Wonderful greens and ambers are woven by Rodier for the snug jacket, and the skirt is hunter's green. The taller your feather, the smarter your hat. This suede cone has two beautiful pheasant tail pieces. "The Doctor" by MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Arden Chokes Pride, Visits Lewis Mansion

What Has Happened:

Months had passed since the World War. Dr. Chris Arden, a young man of twenty-five, had been in the army for three years. He had been a surgeon, and he had seen a great deal of the world. He had been in the front lines, and he had seen the worst of the war. He had been in the hospitals, and he had seen the best of the war. He had been in the trenches, and he had seen the worst of the war. He had been in the hospitals, and he had seen the best of the war. He had been in the trenches, and he had seen the worst of the war. He had been in the hospitals, and he had seen the best of the war.

CHAPTER FIVE

DR. CHRIS ARDEN had received a summons to the Lewis mansion.

A message from the elderly butler informed him that one of the servants was sick and asked him to come.

Chris, wearing his best suit, changed his suit coat for a fine state of perspiration and hope, and on to find that hope fulfilled, and a dignified young Beverly waiting for him in the hall. A Beverly who had certainly seen him ten dollars and got it back again. A Beverly who had a faint smile and an air of letting the dead past bury its dead.

"I hope you don't mind," she said. "I have the cook and maid with us for years."

"Mind? No mind. But then I found out that I was a doctor, and I knew about this sort of thing. We usually begin with the patient. After that it's a matter of the condition. And if the condition is such that we have to do it, we do it. I hope you don't mind."

"I hope you don't mind," she said. "I have the cook and maid with us for years."

N. E. Business Scores Gains

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

Sustained gains in textiles and many other important manufacturing lines imparted a wholesome tone to reports on New England business conditions in the past week.

While weather forecasts with something of a drawback to merchants and improvement was retarded for both retailers and wholesalers.

Trading in lighted woolen goods was more active and improving as the week progressed. Prices were well maintained.

In the cotton textile department, prices were more in demand and finished lines generally sold well.

All vintages including rayon sold fairly well at steady prices. Cotton did the best as before a regular looking of a fair volume of orders.

In other directions conditions were good. Particularly in hats and skins. Both of which are leather prices stiffened as the substantial interest developed among manufacturers.

All told this week's picture of local business conditions is generally rosy and it is not without reason that the past week's outlook of improvement is being noted.

The stock market is still doing its charming act to the disappointment of many of us who have been hoping for better things. However, since it apparently will not be rushed, we will simply have to sit back and wait.

Real estate is the white hope in our opinion, and if they can get going the market will follow.

Well informed people and organizations have taken a stand ranging from hopeful to optimistic in regard to the rail future.

In recent days a leading market letter writer—a partner in his firm—has expressed bullish views.

An investment counselor—Oliver Taylor—has written a book entitled "The Coming Boom in American Railroads."

Finally a partner in a Wall St. house, recently sent out a confidential memo on rank of a decidedly bullish nature.

Notebook . . . Among little picking up the market are: American Water Works, Columbia Gas & Electric, and others. The Boston and Maine Railroad, which has been placed around $12 1/2 per share. It does 25 and 30 cents of available stock in the business. Despite lifting of anti-trust restrictions there is still a number of firms around in capital markets. . . . Looking at the picture the week's outlook is bright.

GOLD PRICE HIGHER

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP). The gold price rose to $149.10 per ounce, equivalent to $347.10 per ounce of gold. The price of silver rose to $1.10 per ounce, equivalent to $2.10 per ounce of silver.

Foreign Syndicates Seek Hearst Art Collection

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—Concern in the principal European countries over the fate of the outstanding works of art in past years was concretely expressed in the past week when efforts were made to take back to their home land and France important pieces of the great William Randolph Hearst collection now being displayed.

Officials of both British and French areas of art dealers were hostile to Danish Warburg and a group of private sales agents, the main line of the collection.

The president was to look up some of the areas of the two continents and make a decision of the complete loss.

Representations are understood to have failed down at least "under the very name of the American publisher's vast collection of art, extending over the past of years in the gallery.

The appearance of a collection in the United States of the outstanding collection of the William Randolph Hearst collection in the New York galleries of Danish Warburg & Company, 444 E. 57th street, New York, is believed to be due to the magnitude of the past year's purchases, reaching into many hundreds of thousands of dollars in cash.

It is not known if the collection was being for sale, but it is known that it is being sold.

AUSTIN LAKE

The best and biggest grid game of the season—the tootled pedantically. Lou Young never suffered any abdominal convulsions as he captained Penn in that golden time when Red and Blue ruled the collegiate roost. Jack Macdonald didn't quake, squirm and shudder when he was totting the ball for Holy Cross in the gay and garrulous days when Frank Cavanaugh was professing the Purple Page.

But tomorrow, the day after the funeral, the residents of any of these elderly homes will be able to see a part of Eddie's life. They will be able to see him in the "real" world. Eddie, who is the youngest of the four Young sports in track and field, will be competing in the 100-yard dash. The 14-year-old Billy Gibson is the pole vaulter. Sixteen-year-old Tom Lee Young has a spring pole. And 17-year-old John O'Brien has a kyd on the shot. And 18-year-old Marshall is the pole vaulter. At Hayward's Torrey Pines track, the boys are training.

And now, the first time in 11 years that the president has met face-to-face with a Democratic senator, the president is expected to stand in a public place before every day's press and to be the first one to leave the office. He is expected to return to a White House where the press and his staff will be everywhere with him.

HORSE racing was introduced to the United States over two and one half centuries ago with the objective, as now, of improving the breed. KEEP IT IN THE HANDS OF RELIABLE MEN UNDER PROPER GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION!

During the four years of its existence and operation, Suffolk Downs has fostered the best interests in racing and breeding. It will continue to be a racing institution where horsemen have a voice.

Boston and the many cities and towns in the metropolitan area rank as one of the world's greatest sporting centres. With a full realization of its responsibility, THE EASTERN RACING ASSOCIATION has endeavored at all times to bring into competition many of the finest Thoroughbred racing horses in the country—THE IDOLS OF A NATION.

They have also made of "SUFFOLK DOWNS" one of the best supervised and most beautiful tracks in America.

If you are a lover of fine horses and desire to keep Suffolk County a leader in the world of sport, be sure to VOTE "YES," ON REFERENDUM NUMBER 4, ELECTION DAY, NOVEMBER 8.

Tom Casey Steals Show At Garden

By JACK CONWAY

While Steve Casey was wrestling champion against the world at the Eddie Hurley memorial wrestling show at the Garden last night, Tom Casey was stealing the show.

Tom Casey, 22 years old, defeated the champion Jim Morris, 24 years old, in a hard fought battle which lasted a full hour and a half.

Tom applied wrestling holds with speed and precision, and his heavy and light hands were a match for Morris.

Olympics to Lose Ford

GEORGE FORD

The old fighting spirit around the Olympics dressing room is just what their thousands of admirers would expect it to be. The 1938 national amateur hockey champions realize that they face the finest hockey team in the world when they cross sticks with the Bruins on the Garden ice next Sunday night.

After yesterday's practice session, the Bruins' dressing room was a scene of excitement.

"There is the greatest bunch of amateur hockey players that I have ever come in contact with."

"Our boys will show. I have never seen the real thing this season, once they reach their championship form. In all my years connected with hockey, I have never seen a gang with such spirit and determination to go out and win. Ninety per cent of our team consists of college boys. I wish that I could make up my mind as to a starting line for Sunday night's game with the Bruins. Every set of forwards and defense men that I have used are almost on a par, but of course only six men can start the game and I will have to make a decision very soon. I feel certain that the boys who have played best for the Bruins last winter will start. The Bruins' dressing room was a scene of excitement. The Bruins' dressing room was a scene of excitement.

Wind Wins, 2-0

NEAMATH FALLS, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Merrill High School football team let its game with Marlin High blow right out of its hands.

A Merrill punter stood on his goal line and kicked into a gate. The wind blew the ball back into the end zone and the referee ruled it a safety for Marlin. Final score: Marlin 2-0.

VIN DIMAG PINCHED FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATION

Here's a chance for La Notizia, Italian Daily News, in general, and Al Zizza, alias Johnny Garro, in particular, to come to the aid of a fellow countryman . . . A few days ago, Vince Di Maggio was pinched in Madera, Cal., for passing on a state highway without clearance . . . The $1.60 taxi fare that Duffy Lewis refused to pay Vince for the solo the Frisco boy took after oversleeping in Chicago won't be a drop in the bucket compared to the job that California judge will do on the strikeout king . . . In the event that Harry Gates stays in there, Dartmouth should go through the entire season without a defeat . . . Gates is a blocker . . . And, Dartmouth needs a blocker to make it a real football club . . . Tommy Fillmore, a former Bruin, has been re-instated by the Springfield Indians . . . He was suspended for not reporting on time . . . But just as soon as Vince Di Maggio he had signed his contract, Tommy was made a member in good standing . . . In view of the fact that they are bringing up Keller, an outfielder and Rosar, a catcher, you'd have to be half witted to lay it on the line that the Yankees got the worse of that trade with the St. Louis Browns . . . There are eleven racial strains on the Fordham football squad . . . Stanford has a great punter in Bill Paulson . . . Auto racers regard green as a hoodoo color . . . Mike Ryan, former track coach at Colby College, who is now the track mentor at the University of Idaho, and during his off hours trains the football squad, speaks out of turn to the extent in that he says the University of Washington track team is loaded for bear next season . . . The Hawks have Jack Orr and Bill Dale, two British Empire veterans . . . Orr has been clocked for the 220-yard dash in 21.2 and the 440 in 48 flat . . . Dale has run a 1.51 half . . . Hollywood is now claiming Sonja Henie as one of its discoveries . . . Before half of the movie magnates had mastered the English language, Sonja was an Olympic champion . . . Junior colleges in the State of Washington have formed a league of six-man football teams . . . Ernie Lombardi hasn't been credited with a sacrifice hit since 1934 . . . Bill Stewart, manager of the Chicago Black Hawks, winner of the Stanley Cup, has sent Pete Palangio to Tulsa, of the American Hockey League . . . Dana X. Rible, the former Nebraska coach, has run into some heavy going this fall at the University of Texas . . . But, he should worry . . . He has eight years to go on his ten year contract with the Longhorns . . . And the stipend is $15,000 per annum. GRIMES.
